somewhat less conclusively, a recent US study found a decline in use of necessary drugs (for diabetes, for example) with increased co-payment expectations (Schoen, Doty, Collins, Holmgren, 2005).

Furthermore, antidepressants are used with extreme caution in children because of the risk of suicidal thoughts.

Moreover, there is a continual freshness to pink chiffon that lifts my mood and keeps me coming back for more.

And yet, in romance-land it appears as if what sells is the alpha male that becomes essentially subservient to the female.
